

Federal regulations require students who are seeking Title IV aid to meet one of the following standards below:

1. High school diploma;
2. Recognized equivalent of a high school diploma (i.e. GED or a state certificate or transcript received by a student after the student passed a State-authorized examination);
3. Excelled academically in high school, able to provide documentation that he or she excelled academically in high school, and has met the formalized admissions policy determined by the Registrar;
4. Homeschool completion credential;
5. Enrolled in a career pathway program and meet the following conditions:
  - a. Pass an independently administered Department of Education approved ATB test (i.e. ACCUPLACER, CELSA, or WBST), and
  - b. Complete at least six credit hours that are applicable toward a degree or certificate at Southeastern.